The Construction Contracts Act 2002 applies to all construction contracts that relate to the carrying out of construction work in New Zealand, whether the contract is in writing, oral, or a mixture of both, and whether it is for commercial or residential construction. This course is delivered as a live on-line zoom session with our trainer and other participants.

This course, from a practical and 'hands-on' point of view, will benefit Clients, Consultants and Contractors wanting to understand the key provisions of this Act, and how it applies to them.

It has four key objectives:

- To protect retention money withheld under commercial construction contracts
- To help ensure a fair, balanced and appropriate payment regime
- To provide a fast and cost-effective adjudication process for people with disputes
- To provide enforcement mechanisms to recover any unpaid payments

Topics include

- Key content of the Construction Contracts Act 2002 (CCA)
- What this means in real life
- How to submit payment claims under the Act
- The Adjudication process

On completion of this course participants will

- Use course notes as an up to date reference on the CCA
- Be familiar with the key provisions of the Act
- How to use the CCA to get paid

Who should attend

Contract and Project Managers, supervisors, engineers'/contractors' representatives, as well as experienced personnel wishing to improve their skills.

Participants must have

Each person must have a computer or laptop with camera and internet access to enable this Zoom training.
