Leaders are people who know how to achieve goals and inspire people along the way. It's vital that you not only know what leadership behaviours are required, but also how to do it.

Good leaders in return get more job satisfaction out of their role. Participants will firstly explore their own style of leadership and then learn how to adapt their style to bring out the best in others. You will leave with your own personal action plan to raise the bar for you and your team.

This highly interactive one day course will address a number of essentials for the supervisor to know and do.

Topics include

- How to lead - what the team wants
- Understanding behaviour
- Aligning the team
- Motivating the team
- Building trust
- Delegation guidelines
- Choosing and building the team
- Problem solving

On completion of this course participants will

- Adapt their style to suit the situation
- Identify issues that will impact performance and resolve them
- Know your people and look out for their well-being
- Develop your team
- Deliver results
- Lead the team effectively
